

Brooks Pierce Partner Featured in Webinar on COVID-19's Impact on the Employment Relationship

May 14, 2020

Brooks Pierce partner Tricia Goodson will present during a webinar for Geneva Group International's (GGI) Labour and Employment Law practice group. The members-only webinar will be held May 14 at 11 a.m.

The webinar will discuss COVID-19 and its implications on the employment relationship and share practical advice on dealing with employees in quarantine, pay during absences from work, medical tests, holidays and job retention.

Goodson counsels employers on day-to-day issues that arise with employees, including discipline and discharge issues, leave issues, and wage and hour compliance. She also defends employers in state and federal court on discrimination and harassment claims and other employment-related claims.